Last Tuesday evening the young people of the Baptist church had the privilege of listening to a very instructive address by Dr. Dixon on the subject of "Why and how to be wealthy." The secret is found in the five magic words: Eat, drink, sleep, work and play. These laws being carefully observed with reference to these five particulars, barring accidents and contagion, there is no reason why the average individual should not live out his allotted span of seventy years.

The subject for next Tuesday eve-

Jess Dorman, staff correspondent the Calgary Herald, writing up the Provincial crops, spent Monday in Wetaskiwin and surrounding country sizing up the growing grain. He declares that Wetaskiwin crops are as good as he has seen and he has been over the country from Canadian north to south some 50,000 acres possibly more, in crop on the Wetaskiwin branch," declared the correspondent, and if nothing happens to prevent the harvest, the yield ought to be around 2,500,000 bushels. This is a very nice little pile of grain, but it ought to be at least double the amount. There is room in the Wetaskiwin district for the production of 30,000,000 bushels of grain and leave land plentiful for mixed farming. Less than half the ground would need to be farmed to realize this result and the benefit to the community would be incalculable.
Alberta is going to be the back bone of the Dominion with a grain yield equal to the total Dominion harvest for this year and that before long.

GEORGIA MINSTRELS

"A. J. work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." Amusement is as necessary to the welfare of humanity as labor.

To the brain-fagged business man, overworked clerk and drudging housewife, no form of amusement appeals as does the minstrels. Their fun is natural, spontaneous and exhilarating free from rant and theatrics.

Undoubtedly the best known and popular minstrel organization before the public today is Richards & Fring's which appear at Angus Opera House on Friday, August 14th.

Each year they bring a brand new show and each year the show seems a little better than their previous visit. There are a lot of new faces this season but Clarence Powell still heads the fun mountain. They are forty in number and every one of them is an artist.

There is a band of twenty and an orchestra of ten; and such a band and orchestra, well, they're worth going a long way to hear.

There will be a big parade at noon, and a free concert in front of the theatre at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

Reserved seats 75c at Bailey's.

THE FRUITS OF THE EARTH

Seem To Be Nature's Provision For Keeping Man Healthy and Warding Off Diseases.

Cereals, vegetables and meat supply the elements needed for man's nourishment. Yet fruit—though it has very little food value—has proved to be absolutely necessary for perfect health.

Careful investigation has shown that all the common fruits act on the Liver, Kidneys, Bowels and Skin. These are the organs that rid the body of dead tissue and waste products, and the fruit juices stir them up to more vigorous action, thus keeping the whole body clean and healthy.

But few people eat enough fruit. Realizing this, after several years of experimenting, a prominent Canadian physician succeeded in combining the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes in such a way that the medicinal action is many times multiplied. Then he added vitamin tonics and made the combination into tablets called "Fruit-a-lives." These are really Nature's cure for Constipation, Indigestion, Bilelessness and Stomach Trouble. Mild as Nature itself—but more prompt and effective. Sold by dealers at 50c a box—6 boxes for $2.50—trial size box 25c. Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

PHILIPPINE FORESTS.

Precious Woods That Go to Waste in Quantities.

The natural growth of the Philippine forests is computed by Major Abern, chief of the Insular Forestry Bureau, to be 1,400,000 cubic feet—three times the cut for 1900 in the entire United States. At the present time fully 90 per cent of this natural growth is going to waste, and the world is clamoring for the woods—the ebonyes, mahoganies, ironwoods, construction woods, all manner of precious woods that need only modern methods, a maximum of machinery and a minimum of handling to make Monte Cristo of the needed lumbermen.

There are many millions of cubic feet in the forests of the Philippines that should be cut in order to properly thin out the dense growth. For instance, where there are three or four trees growing on a space required for one that one so forest would put on more good wood each year than the four together. The question as to whether 300 or 400 trees should remain on an acre is where the real value of scientific forestry is shown. Then, too, the body more millions of feet which reach maturity and pass on to decay, never fulfilling to the woodman's axe. There are, however, very few companies in the Philippines properly equipped to handle large logs, and without master mechanics, expert gang saws in fact, all the skilled labor required—and without a full stock of the best supply material it would be hazardous to move the large logs which must be cut and brought to market if the forests are to be properly exploited. A good price is paid in Hongkong for every stick of timber from the Philippines, and the American lumberman with modern methods can solve the problem, and in so doing they will not only help to educate the adaptable Filipino as to practical things, but will insure him cash wages, something unusual in Spanish days. —Hamilton Wright in The World Today.

Danced the Ship to Safety.
Aided by the cadence of several hundred bluejackets dancing a sailor's jig to the music of the ship's band, H. M. battleship Dominion backed off the obstruction on which she had grounded in the bay De Chaleur. The Dominion was speeding from Charlotte town, P. E. I., to Quebec when during the night she struck hard aground. Immediately the ship's crew was ordered on deck, the Dominion's band was commanded to play a jig, and all hands, every man with his heavy dance bag in his hands, danced in time to the music, while the engineers put on full steam astern. Gradually the force of the jig, aided by the oscillation caused by the movement of hundreds of feet in unison, drew the big ship backward until she floated safely in deep water.

Future of Wireless.
May be allowed to run up one or two considerations as to the probable influence of wireless telegraphy on the future of our daily life. In the first place, a severance of communication with any part of the earth, even the antipodes, will be brought by instantaneous means that overthrow telegraph posts and cables that cause our cables are impossible in the same way. An explorer like Stanley in the Congo forest or Perry and his boats will report their progress to the New York Times by wireless and will be in contact with the world by the same means. Sir William Preece's dream of signalling to Mars may be realized by the use of wireless.

New Inexpensive Lamps.
During the past year the new electric lamps, with filaments of tantalum, osmium or carbon instead of carbon, have been widely tested with most promising results. Many of these lamps are now in use in Europe. Still it is felt that the best possible results have not yet been obtained, and inventors continue to seek improvements. In the best of these lamps, says the Revue Generale des Sciences, only a hundredth part of the electric energy expended is utilized in luminous radiation. Instantly as the luminous efficiency is rapidly augmented with increase of temperature, almost as the fifth power of the temperature, the least efforts have been directed to securing the greatest possible elevation of the temperature of the filaments.

A Wonderful Fruit.
A wonderful fruit has been found in the neighborhood of the coast of the Gulf of Guinea, in Africa. It has the power, says a report, to "change the humor of the most acid substance into a delicious sweetness." An official has found it effective after a dose of quinine and adds that "if a lemon be sucked within two or three hours of eating one of the fruits its acid flavor is entirely counteracted." The fruit resembles a small plum, with the seed in a peculiar sweetening property.

Observer Adopts New Spelling.

In the youth's department all of the words suggested by the first of its class to join the ranks of the simpler spellers. In the rest of the paper a more conservative policy will be followed.

A GLACIER'S SECRET.

Heid by the Zmut For Forty Years and May Soon Be Solved.
There appeared recently in a morning daily paper a brief telegram from Zermatt to the effect that guides had been searching the lower portion of the Zmut glacier for the body of Lord Francis Douglas.

This announcement was, probably, puzzling to not a few people, much doubtless imagining that some quite recent mountaineering tragedy had occurred, involving the death of a member of the British aristocracy, but which till that moment they had heard nothing.

As a matter of fact, however, the death of Lord Francis Douglas occurred exactly forty-one years ago, and that the body only now being sought for is explainable by the fact that it is only this summer "due" at the glacier's tongue.

For this is the way of glaciers. A man falls into a crevasse half an inch deep, and the slowly moving ice river. The intense cold preserves the body, and the glacier bears it with it to the valley far below. It disposes of that lost mountaineer in a fresh and perfect as on the day it first gripped it.

Many bodies have been thus delivered up after the lapse of forty, fifty, and even more years, and in some instances exceedingly accurate forecasts, based on the known velocities of particular glaciers, have been made as to the time of such deliveries. It is generally agreed among geologists that the Zmut glacier ought to disgorge the remains of Lord Francis assuming that they are ever again to see the light of day—this year or next.

Scarless Surgery.
The London surgeon who conceived the idea and successfully put it in practice is unable to meet the demands for his services. The idea is a simple one. In making the first incision the scalpel does not cut the skin at right angles to the surface, but passes through it at a slant. After the operation is over the skin is joined with the greatest nicety, a magnifying glass being used to see that the contact is perfect. Then a rigid dressing of wood glue is applied to prevent contraction, and as much pressure is applied as is safe.

The Annual Lamb Clip.
The "lamb business" in Wall street is estimated to be worth $375,000,000 a year to the brokers and their allies, the banks. By "lamb business" is meant the amount of money lifted out of the pockets of the people. The brokers are not to blame. People do not have to be lured to speculate in anything, and that is why millions of our fellow citizens throughout the land are themselves to one end of the Wall street private wire and squander their earnings feeding that wire. What astounds financiers is the fact that the annual lamb clip in Wall street is $375,000,000.—New York Press.

Stealing Elephants.
To steal an elephant would seem to be well high impossible. But the British consular reports that it is a common practice in India. There the huge quadrupeds are employed in the tank forests and on the roads. One British firm last year bewailed the loss of a dozen and reported that as many more were stolen from other contractors. Another firm lost nine, only three of which were recovered. At the average value of the elephants is about $1,500 a head, the consular naturally enlarges on the seriousness of the matter. What is amazing about it is that the officials are unable to find out the missing creatures is recovered at all it is only by means of a search party organized for the purpose.

WATER GLEN.
It is our duty to announce the death of Erik Dufwa who died Saturday morning, August 1st, in Ponoka, where he had been the doctor's treatment for a few days. He has been ailing for some time with heart trouble, so his death came altogether unexpected. Mr. Dufwa was a pioneer of the Western district, coming here from Sweden first in the spring of 1893. In the fall of 1893 he went back to Sweden, returning in the spring of 1895 with his wife and family and have since then been living on his homestead. The funeral took place from his residence on Monday, August 2, at 2 o'clock, and proceeded to the Mission Church cemetery where was laid to rest. The casket was covered with large number of beautiful flowers. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Anderson. Mr. Dufwa was very highly respected by his many neighbors and many a bitter tear was shed by the old pioneers of Svea when memory carried them back to the first years they spent together in the early days of Alberta homesteading. He leaves a widow and six sons and two daughter to mourn the loss of a loving husband and affectionate father. He also leaves a brother in this country, but all his other relatives reside in Sweden.

THE PORK COMMISSION.

The Pork Commission is drawing out a great deal of evidence showing the deep dissatisfaction of the farmers with the present low prices and fluctuating demand for hogs and the strong feeling that the only remedy for monopolistic conditions is government operation and control in some form, preferably along the lines of the government creamery system.

The gain of government porkpacking plant would be that it would act as a regulator of prices. Without government operation there might be times and conditions perhaps, when the private plants would give competition in prices, but if we are to judge the porkpacking industry in Alberta by the history of the porkpacking industry in the States, we may expect trade combinations and uniform prices for the benefit of the private plants and to the detriment of both consumer and producer.

This country cannot afford to have the packing of hogs and the canning of beef in the hands of the monopolies and only government operation can regulate the prices for these businesses and themselves very readily to trade combination. The Government has earned the praise of the farmers in breaking up the timber combine, but the people suffered a long time under it. They do not want to keep up any longer the meagre returns at present coming to the hog industry and it is up to the Government to give them the only adequate relief in sight. Prevention is a long way better than cure, as a rule.

It is said that twenty-four million pounds of binder twine will be required in Western Canada for the crop this year. This is allowing that there are 5,000,000 acres of grain crops in the West, which, owing to exceptional conditions, will require two and one half pounds of twine per acre.

VESSEL BURNED AND EIGHT PEOPLE PERISH

West. Bellick, Many Aug. 7. The steamer Wolverine, brought in the news tonight of a terrible disaster on Lake Winnipeg at Warren's Landing where at 11:15 were lost in a fire which destroyed the steamer, the crew and eight of the passengers.

The steamer was "bug" at her dock three freighted for the return trip to this point, when suddenly fire broke out about 11 a. m. Thursday morning, when her passengers, all told, were peacefully asleep in their rooms. The flames spread with such terrible rapidity that it was impossible to arouse them all and eight of them met a terrible death. Others escaped in night robes only.

Is it the absence of "cold cash" that makes the heat so intense? "Ahem, makes the heart grow fonder," warmer too, by gosh! Powder for the diaphragm.

Then after a short time the man said: "Boy, there isn't much difference between you and a fool." "No," he replied, "only the time."
